Principal's Corner

Families are encouraged to be involved in the education process. We encourage parents and guardians to ask questions about the school day on a daily basis. Asking what the child brought home in his/her folder can open up a multitude of questions. This will give a glimpse of what went on during the school day and provides an opportunity for the learner to demonstrate what they accomplished. Asking questions about what was fun and what was difficult about the day will give parents insights into the school day and allow you to be able to work with your youngster on homework, reading or any other practice that is sent home.

We always welcome parents and families to write notes to teachers and staff. Please do not hesitate to call or e-mail when necessary. The home school connection is a critical part of the educational process. Students that have excellent attendance, involved parents and families are proven to be the most successful learners. It is our desire for this for all of our students.

Thank you for entrusting your child to our school!
