B.B.M.S. Renovations Update

Volume 3, Issue 5

It's hard to believe that only eight months ago, no construction had started at Berlin Brothersvalley School District. It is amazing what the construction crews have accomplished in the past eight months. Since the middle of October, students have been using the hallways that join the middle school to the high school. This has been a plus for everyone involved by keeping the students out of the elements. On December 8, 2005, the first dinner was held in the new cafeteria. The new middle school computer lab was also used the same evening for the regular monthly board meeting. Staff and students will notice a change in the facility use after we return from Christmas break. Students will be using the new cafeteria on a daily basis, as well as using the middle school computer lab for classes. The new middle school office will be used as well starting January 2, 2006. The middle school guidance office will be moving back to the original office on that date as well. The other renovations are moving along very quickly as well with various other rooms scheduled to open at the end of February, if not sooner. If you get a chance to stop by the middle school, please do so and take a look around at the new facility and what it will bring to our school district. If you cannot stop by the middle school, I have provided pictures for you to view below by clicking on the links:
