P.S.S.A. testing at B.B.M.S.

February 2013

Volume 10, Issue 7

The start of the new year always brings mixed emotions for students and staff. Students are thinking that it is a step closer to the end of the school year. Staff on the other hand begin preparing students for the upcoming state assessments - P.S.S.A.'s.

The testing schedule this year has changed as to the subject matter that is tested first. Students in grades 3, 4 and 5 will be administered the P.S.S.A. English Language Arts:

Writing Field Test on February 5, 2013. This year, the P.S.S.A. Writing Assessment will begin the testing window. Students in grades 5 and 8 will take this test on March 11 through March 15, 2013.

The Mathematics and Reading P.S.S.A. will be administered at B.B.M.S. beginning on Monday, April 8 through Friday, April 12, 2013. Finally, on April 22, 2013, the Science P.S.S.A. will be administered to the eighth graders on Monday, April 22 through Friday, April 26, 2013. Students are required by Pennsylvania law to take these assessments. If students are absent on any days of P.S.S.A. testing, they will be required to make-up those sections missed.

This means that they will be missing their regular classroom instruction and assignments. Therefore, it is imperative that students make every effort to be present on the days of scheduled testing. More information will be following in the coming weeks with the parent letters being mailed home. If you have further questions, please feel free to contact me here at the school by phone or through e-mail.
